By direct cables via Lisbon.

Paris, 24th—The whole Press of Europe is writing about the speeches of Emperor William, King Humbert and Caprivi and their respective declarations.

Little faith is placed in their assurances as to peace, in face of the increased armaments of Germany and Italy. The principal Paris papers attack Caprivi for his warlike declarations.

King Humbert's references as to the renewal of the Triple Alliance have changed the hitherto cordial tone here in reference to Italian affairs since the Genoa fetes.

The Austrian and English papers think that peace will not be broken, in spite of the necessity for large armaments by the leading Powers.

Rome, 24th—Ex-Minister Zanardelli has been elected President of the Deputies by a large majority. The friends of the Cabinet applaud the election and Giolitti's position is considered safe.

The Popolo Romano announces that the Minister and Secretary of the Navy will resign.

London, 24th,—The Anarchist agitation against the extradition of Francois continues, and it has been decided to hold an Anarchist meeting in Trafalgar Square next Sunday, to protest against Francois's extradition to France. Disorder is feared.

Berlin' 24th—The question as to sentries firing on citizens who do not answer their challenge has been settled.

Emperor William is ill in bed since yesterday, but is better to day.

The Minister of War, answering a question in the Reichstag to-day, said that the sentries in the city would no longer be allowed to carry ball-cartridges. This has calmed the public agitation on the matter.

Tarragona, 24th—At a bull-fight here to-day one of the fighters was suddenly stabbed by a policeman and fell to the ground, when a bull rushed at him and killed him. There was a terrible scene of excitement amongst the public.

London, 24th—The wharves at Hermitage were destroyed this morning by fire. An enormous quantity of goods was reduced to ashes. The losses are also enormous. Almost everything was insured.

Paris, 24th—The Temps announces that France has annexed the Paul and Amsterdam Islands in the Indian Ocean.

(Per Havas Agency.)

Paris, 24th (evening)—Deputy Henri Brisson has been named President of the Panama Canal Investigation Committee.

Rome, 24th (evening) — There is a rumour that Brin, the Navy Minister, has resigned.

(To the "Prensa".)

Berlin, 23rd.—At the opening of the Monetary Congress in Brussels Premier Beernart said that Germany had destroyed monetary equilibrium by adopting the gold standard, and that the excessive coinage of the metal had caused the heavy fall in silver. He finished his speech in favour of monometallism, gold, for the Latin Union.

All the Liberal papers oppose the Military Bill.

Herr Haene declared in the Landtag that the Centre will not support the new taxes unless they are accompanied by electoral reform.

THE BATEMAN LEGACY.

HIGH WATER-RATES! NO WATER!!

It would seem as if the sorrows of our city in connection with the Bateman Waterworks were to go on increasing year by year. These works have already cost £6,400,000 sterling or about £150 per house, but the complaint on all sides is that for several hours in the day there is no water. This is unendurable, and we cannot say how long the public of Buenos Ayres is to be treated in this scandalous manner, or how far the patience of the citizens can be trifled with.

We know that the works were originally estimated at £2,000,000 sterling and have now cost three times that sum. We refrain from repeating the remarks of Sir Horace Davy in the London Lawcourts, lest it might prejudice the arbitrators who are now sitting. We can only sympathise with the unfortunate citizens of Buenos Ayres, whose money has been so freely disposed of, and who now find themselves without water, after 20 years of the Bateman Legacy.

Meantime the most tremendous rates are levied for this water service; for example this office has to pay 35$ monthly, which is equal to £30 sterling per annum, and we suppose the general public is victimized in like manner. In a word the water-tax is four times as much as in Europe, and the city is, nevertheless, at times without a drop of water.

Of course there is nobody to blame. The money transactions from 1872 to 1892 have been strictly honest. It is merely an effect of the climate that the cost is £4,000,000 sterling over the estimates. When anybody says that the Bateman Legacy has been a stinking business from first to last he uses intemperate language. And finally if the citizens must go without water (while paying tremendous water-rates) it is only one of those drawbacks inseparable from life in South America.

IMPUNITY FOR CRIME.

The confession which we publish in another column, of the assassin Giuseppe Meardi, who murdered his wife a few hours after landing in Buenos Ayres, shews that the criminal classes in Europe have come to regard the Argentine Republic as the only country on earth where murder is treated as an offence of no importance. If he murdered her in Italy he would probably have been kept in prison for a long number of years; if on board the steamer Provence he would have been taken back to France and perhaps guillotined. But, he made up his mind to commit the crime after landing in our city, and he did so. The very mild sentences recently passed on the murderers of the boy in Calle Reconquista would alone suffice to encourage him in the diabolical plan, which he carried out entirely to his satisfaction.

It is time, however, for the people of Buenos Ayres to put a stop to this kind of business, and to tell Pres. Saenz Peña and his Ministers that we do not mean to encourage assassination and to make our city a paradise for cut-throats.

The annals of crime hardly contain anything more fiendish than the murder in question. Yet it is by no means improbable that the assassin will be sentenced to a longer or shorter term of penal servitude, and as these sentences are invariably shortened he will be again at large in a year or two. But, if this atrocious murder had been committed in Texas or Oregon the public would have lynched the criminal in 24 hours.

There is something truly horrible in the boldness with which the assassin Meardi confessed his crime. There is the same tone of cynic effrontery as in the case of the murder at Barracas, which we reported last week, when the assassin was confronted with the exhumed body of his victim. If such awful murders are allowed to go unpunished we may as well abolish our law-courts and prisons, and let Society take the consequences.

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.

From time to time we hear of cases of death from accidental poisoning, but that which has caused the greatest sensation is the one reported in our columns yesterday, the victim of which was the daughter of an old English resident, the late Mr. John Spraggon. It was merely a mistake of the apothecary, but we imagine that more than one family in Buenos Ayres can call to mind a similar mistake which has been attended with fatal consequences.

Apothecaries are, like other men, liable to err, and we should feel disposed to pass over the present occurrence without comment if the poor lady had not lost her life. We believe that for motives of delicacy, the Police have not published the name of the druggist in whose shop the prescription was made up. In like manner, out of respect for apothecaries in general, we shall content ourself with saying that they are a very respectable body of men, among whom there may be possibly half-a-dozen careless fellows.

Still the risk of being poisoned by an apothecary, through negligence, will make some people so uneasy that, in Shakespeare's words, they will—

"Throw physic to the dogs."

It is, therefore, in the interest of all respectable apothecaries to be for some time doubly careful against the repetition of a case like the present. Another case of this kind would cause intense alarm in the public mind. Whenever it be possible we should recommend our readers to get their prescriptions made up by daylight, and to prefer "Boticas" of old standing to newer ones, although the former may be at a considerable distance. Also, let physic for internal use be put in round bottles, those for external in square ones, and the latter (whenever necessary) marked Poison. We believe these latter precautions are now in use by most apothecaries.

The late Dr. Conyngham, it may be remembered, never gave his patients physic, perhaps because in early life he had seen or heard of some case like that which now occupies us: at all events he was known as the "medico sin remedios," and few practised more disinterestedly or more successfully.

LATEST FROM CHILE.

Valparaiso, Nov. 12.

The unpleasant feeling created by the resignation of the Ministry has been allayed somewhat by the announcement that the President has induced the members of the Cabinet to retain their portfolios, at all events for the present, and that there is a probability that he may succeed in healing the breach between the Conservatives and their allies on the one hand, and the Ministry on the other. It is to be hoped for many reasons that this result may be attained, but the difficulties to be overcome are neither few nor small. The opposition of the Conservatives to the Ministry is aimed principally, if not wholly, against the Premier, whom they accuse, rightly or wrongly, of a breach of faith towards them. They have, it is said, expressed their willingness to support the other members of the Ministry if the Premier be withdrawn, and the Cabinet be reintegrated with a "persona grata" to them. This, however, is easier said than done.

After an illness of several weeks in which hope and fear alternated almost to the end, the great and noble patriot, don Waldo Silva, quietly breathed his last at 6.45 p. m. on Thursday. Although the country has been prepared for some days past for the fatal news, this in nowise lessens the profound regret with which the report of his death has been received here and throughout the Republic. The leading part the late gentleman took in the struggle for the restoration of constitutional rights is too well known to need recapitulation here. His death occurred on the anniversary of the day—November 10, 1891—on which he and his coadjutors, don Jorge Mont and don Ramon Barros Luco, resigned the powers with which they had been invested into the hands of Congress. Don Waldo Silva was called to the bar in 1843, and he had been a prominent public man since 1856, when he was appointed Minister of Public Instruction. He held at one period the position of associate judge of Concepcion Court of Appeal, and he sat during many years in Congress as Deputy and Senator, and he was for a long period President of the Senate, which office he continued to discharge till he was prevented doing so from illness. The Government were desirous of according to his remains a public funeral, but in obedience to the written and expressed desire of the deceased, the family declined the offer, and the funeral was of the simplest kind and attended by relatives only. All the papers appeared in mourning out of respect for the memory of the deceased, who was universally admired and esteemed.

The Llewelly Morgan of Iongoi. This well-known gentleman died at Brillador, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Richards, on Monday evening, the 31st ult., and was buried in the Protestant Cemetery, Guayacan, on Thursday the 3rd instant.

The Canteras Estate, which has a history of its own, is to be offered for sale on January 9th next. The area of the estate is 20,000 cuadras, or, in round numbers, 80,000 acres. This estate was once the property of Don Bernardo O'Higgins, and during his exile in Peru he made a gift of it to General Bulnes.

The remarkable wave of heat which was experienced here on Tuesday and Wednesday is still the subject of conversation. Had the eruption of Villarica anything to do with it? Showers of fine ash have fallen in some parts of the south at no very great distance from the volcano, but earthquakes, subterranean noises, and abnormal heat have been experienced in Concepcion and other places in the south. If our unfortunate Observatory had not been suffering for some years past from a chronic spasm of silence, we might, perhaps, have been enlightened on this very interesting subject of the late wave of heat; as it is, we are left to amuse ourselves with our own conjectures.

A reliable authority writes from Punta Arenas under date of October 29, respecting the gold discoveries in Tierra del Fuego, as follows:—

"We have been surprissed to read the most exaggerated reports about the recent gold discoveries in the Straits, published in Valparaiso papers, and to learn the great excitement caused by them. Since the mines at Lennox Island became completely exhausted, the numerous miners arrived from Buenos Ayres are in great distress, and are not able to make their living. The gunboat Magallanes will be dispatched next week to establish an authority on Navarino Island and to pick up the distressed and sick people."

THE CALLE BULNES MURDER.

Meardi, the husband of the woman whose body was found in Calle Bulnes the other day, has confessed that he murdered his wife. His confession may be summed up as follows: When I returned to Italy from Buenos Ayres, it was with the intention of marrying a woman I loved. But money in Italy is not so plentiful as in Buenos Ayres, and before long a matrimonial agent persuaded me to marry a girl, pretty and rich. I was living with my mother at the time. My father had died. One of my brothers was murdered and the other was killed in an accident in Buenos Ayres. The agent succeeded in persuading me to marry the girl with the money. He shewed me her likeness, according to which she was very pretty. I authorized him to arrange the marriage with Marguerita, as she was called. My deception was great when I came to know her. I saw I had made a mistake. However, I married her and my father-in-law gave me three thousand francs. I could not look at my wife, and people soon remarked my indifference. A girl told me that some day I would kill my wife. It was about that time that I conceived the idea of bringing her to Buenos Ayres to murder her. We took the steamer to come out here. We stopped at Rio. I landed at Rio to buy a knife to carry out my purpose. I made it a point not to quarrel with my wife. We arrived in due time here. On the night, following the day of our arrival, I took her out for a walk. We dined in a fonda in Calle Cuyo. I don't drink. I took very little wine. She was very fond of wine. Margarita looked very sad in the fonda, because she knew I disliked her. After dinner we proceeded on our walk. It was very dark. There were trees about us. Margarita got frightened. I told her we were going towards the river and at the same time pulled her by the arm. We went on a little further, but she got so frightened that she said she was going away. I wish she had. I made her sit down. I put my arm round her neck. She thought I was going to kiss her. I pulled out my knife and plunged it into her throat. I was mad. I jumped up and stabbed and stabbed and then fled in horror. I passed many policemen. I pushed on until I arrived in the Paseo de Julio, where I entered a fonda and slept; well, not slept, for the fatal vision was continually before my eyes. The next morning I changed my clothes, although I had no stains of blood upon me.

ARGENTINE INDUSTRIAL STOCKS.

The sale by the Trustees of the Baring Estate of their Central Argentine stock has made an exceedingly favourable impression upon markets, and very naturally so. It will be recollected that the liabilities of the Baring estate at the end of August amounted to a little over five millions, that among the assets there were the private properties of the partners, securities other than South American, and cash, etc., amounting in round figures to about two millions. Assuming that all these can be realised at the valuation put upon them in October, 1890, there would still remain about three millions of liabilities, against which only the South American assets would remain. It is not a matter of surprise, especially taking into account the tone of the Governor of the Bank of England's remarks, that most people assumed that they were not likely to prove of anything like the value originally placed upon them. Mr. Powell's speech led many people indeed to anticipate that they were of such a character that years must elapse before they could be advantageously realised. It is, then, an agreeable surprise to learn that so large a block has already found a purchaser. Naturally, when this has occurred the impression gains ground that the South American assets, taken collectively, will prove to be more valuable than most people were prepared to find them, and that they will be realised more quickly. If that impression be correct, then the Baring liquidation is likely to be completed much sooner than the world generally anticipated, and, at all events, there are solid grounds for hoping that the assurances so often given by Mr. Lidderdale wer well founded, and that no loss will fall upon the guarantors. Furthermore, the purchase is important inasmuch as it reassures the Argentine railway market. There was never much probability that the Bank of England would dump down the whole of the Argentine securities, and so depreciate the estate it is liquidating, but it is reasonably certain that the purchasers will nurse what they have bought. They are persuaded that the stock they have purchased is really good, that it must rise in value as every month passes, and they will take very good care not to dispose of it again without obtaining a handsome profit. The market, therefore, feels reassured because the danger of forced sales upon a considerable scale is now averted. Lastly, the purchase is significant because of the evidence it affords that well-informed capitalists are willing to put an immense sum of money in Argentine railway stock, and to hold for a time, confident that prices will improve. In their opinion, Argentina has evidently seen her worst stage, and we may now look for rapid progress.

The transaction to which we have referred shows that great capitalists hold these views; and the opinion is further supported by the report just issued by the Central Argentine Railway Company. Up to March last the falling off in traffics, which was inevitable after the revolution of midsummer, 1890, and the Baring collapse, continued. Then there was an improvement, which became very marked indeed in May and June, the final result being that the gross receipts for the half-year show an increase of over £26,000, compared with the corresponding period of last year, whilst the working expenses increased by little more than £7,000. The net receipts, therefore, improved by a trifle over £19,000.

For more than two years now credit in Argentina has been utterly paralysed. It has been impossible to live by borrowing or by speculation. Everyone, therefore, who had not a fortune has been compelled to work, and the consequence is a very great extension of the area under cultivation. Happily, too, the country has been favoured with good seasons. The crops last year were exceptionally good, and the exports proved so large that there was a very satisfactory fall in gold premium at the beginning of this year. Now the promise for the coming harvest is again good, and the wool clip is expected to be extremely large. Assuming that the hopes entertained are realised, the exports will once more prove upon a colossal scale, and a further considerable drop in the gold premium is almost inevitable. At the worst period it was as high as 365 per cent.

Should the exports again prove large—now practically a foregone conclusion—it is quite possible that we may witness in the course of a few months a drop to under 200 per cent. If the downward movement proceeds still further, say to 150 per cent., the railway companies would gain immensely. It is only natural to suppose that those who bought from Messrs. Baring Brothers have eyes about them. In the long run, everybody is aware that the premium must decline, but capitalists would hardly purchase now unless they expected an early fall, and should the expectation be borne out, then the improvement in industrial securities will be noticeably great.

As pointed out above, the area under cultivation has greatly enlarged during the past two years. Eversince March last trade has been reviving, and credit has improved. If now the harvest and wool clip turn out well, all classes will be enriched, there will be haste to export, augmented quantites of goods will be carried over the railways, and so their receipts will considerably improve. Railway companies, it is as well to remember, benefit from every addition made to their traffics, and the Argentine lines will gain still more from each fall in the gold premium. And the premium is likely to fall, not alone because economic conditions exhibit improvement and the agricultural outlook is encouraging, but likewise because politics are running in smoother grooves. This month the Pellegrini Administration ceases, and a regular constitutional Government enters office. Very soon we may expect the beginning of negotiations a for a final settlement with the creditors of the Republic, and when that happens the credit of the Government will revive. This, in turn, will increase the purchasing power of the paper notes. For every reason, then, we seem justified in anticipating a considerable fall in gold premium in the early future. It seems, then, safe to conclude that anyone who now judiciously buys Argentine railway, tramway, and other industrial stocks cannot fail to make money.—Money.

THE ENTRE-RIOS RAILWAYS.

An inspection of the report just issued by the Entre-Bios Railways Company for the five months ended 30th June, during which the system has been in their hands, leaves little doubt of the wisdow of the bondholders when they agreed to take over the road from the Entre-Rios Government. The line was rapidly going to rack and ruin. Such plans and documents as were furnished by the Government proved to be utterly unreliable, and even now the mileage can only be approximately estimated. Although the main railway was only opened five years ago the earthworks, built originally with slopes too steep, were rapidly crumbling away. As to the general condition of the track, the following extract from the general manager's report will suffice:—"The rails are very light for the class of rolling stook that has been placed upon them, and from want of maintenance the track was allowed to get into a fearful state, with the result that the rails are to a large extent twisted and bent."

A great deal has been done during the short time the Company has been in possession to bring the railway into proper condition. So much so that Mr. Boutell, the Company's representative at Buenos Ayres, who recently travelled over the line, reports:—"The whole of the track is completely changed, the banks are widened where necessary and rendered perfectly secure." The rolling stock has also been put into something like order, and is now fairly adequate for present requirements. It reflects every credit upon Mr. Rigby, the chief engineer and general manager, and his staff that so much should have been effected in so short a time.

At first blush the results yielded by the working of the railway for the five months appear unsatisfactory. The total gross receipts amounted to £18,373, of which £6,091 were derived from passenger and £10,917 from goods traffic. The working expenditure was £20,184, leaving a net loss of £1,811. But when it is remembered that the business had been utterly neglected, that the bad state of the line involved heavier expenditure, and that for nearly two months the traffic was interrupted by floods, they are not worse than could reasonably be expected. Of the £20,184 included in the working expenditure £6,502 has been laid out on the permanent way and £4,548 on locomotive power.

The prospects for the future are hopeful. The line, which is about 379 miles in length, runs from Concepcion to Parana, and has branches to Gualeguaychu, Gualeguay, Villaguay and Victoria. The country traversed possesses a very rich soil, and in character is rapidly changing from pastoral to agricultural. Towns and villages are springing up along the line of route, and even during the short time the Company has operated the road a marked increase has been noticed both in the population and the area under cultivation. As the country develops, which it should continue to do more quickly under the influence of a well-managed railway, a lucrative carrying trade in firewood, charcoal, wheat and live stock may be expected to spring up. Formerly, the only industry of importance in the district was cattle raising, and under the late incapable management the country people frequently preferred to cart their produce to the various river ports, scarcely any point of the line being more than 60 or 70 miles from one of these. But with greater railroad facilities such primitive methods of transport are dying out. The Entre Rios railway possesses the further advantages of being free from Government interference, as it is not guaranteed; is exempt from all national, provincial or municipal taxes for a period of 30 years, and is entitled to charge the same tariff as the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Road.

The line, it is true, has been worked at a loss, but the heavy percentage of expenditure is due, as we have shown, to inevitable and temporary causes. There can be no question that the management in Argentina have done their work so far with prudence and energy, and they have only to proceed on the same lines to insure, apart from ulterior causes, a successful issue.—Financial Times.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

RECEIPT FOR TYPHOID.

Mr. Editor,

Allow to call your attention to a serious mistake now being made throughout this city: I refer to that made in not carrying the piping which is connected with the drains from the houses to the sewers, sufficiently high to allow the foul gases from the drains to escape above the house tops. Wherever this mistake occurs, the result is that the foul gases, escaping at a lower level than the roofs, enter the upper rooms of the building and contaminate the air, making it injurious to health, and typhoid fever is the usual result. The hotter the weather is the greater is the quantity of gas given out, so that the chances of contracting disease are greater at this time of year than at any other.

Yours etc.,
Observer.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 23rd 1892.

MR. ARTHUR HERBERT.

The following quotation from a New York paper will interest many friends of Mr. Herbert in Buenos Ayres:—

"Mr. Arthur Herbert, who is very shortly to become the husband of Miss Helen Gammell, of Providence, is an extremely clever young man, who has already distinguished himself as a linguist. Besides having a knowledge of the languages considered necessary for the diplomatic service, he is said to be conversant with the Russian, Persian and Spanish tongues. He has occupied various diplomatic positions, having been at Brussels, at Washington, at Persia and at St. Petersburg. At present he is over at Copenhagen, having been exchanged from Buenos Ayres. The fact of this exchange led to the rumour that he had gone abroad indefinitely, and that the engagement to Miss Gammell was entirely broken off. This rumour was promptly denied by Mrs. Gammell, who said that the arrangements for the wedding were going forward. Mr. Herbert has a pedigree, one of the oldest in the United Kingdom in male descent, belonging to the elder branch of the Herbert family, from which descend the Earls of Pembroke and Carnarvon on his father's side. The future husband of Miss Gammell is a grandson of the late Earl of Fingall, who was for many years Lord in Waiting to Her Majesty the Queen of England. On his mother's side he is a grandson of Lord Llanover. The future home of Miss Gammell, Llanarth House, has been in the uninterrupted possession of the family for several hundred years, as have several other of their country places. The wedding will in all probability be celebrated either this autumn or in the winter at Newport."

We are in a position to add some particulars on the above subject. Mr Arthur Herbert was one of the secretaries of the Legation at Washington under Lord Sackville in 1888, and then made the acquaintance of Miss Helen Gammell, a young lady of good family and great attractions, who has since paid a visit to Europe, passing some time with the Herbert family at Llanarth Court, Monmouth, one of the most stately mansions in England. As Miss Gammell is a Protestant there was much difficulty about her marriage, and Mr. Herbert has had to enlist the influence of his cousin, Archbishop Vaughan, with the Pope, to obtain the necessary dispensation, which we have no doubt will be granted, as Leo XIII. has a special regard for the successor of Cardinal Manning.

WATER-SUPPLY.

Mr. Editor,

In your paper of 20th inst., I find a few lines in which you rejoice and throw up your hat for the new pumps at the Recoleta. I am afraid your rejoicing is premature. If you will refer to your paper of Oct. 1st, you will find something more practical than throwing up hats. My letter of the above date says: "The present supply is notoriously inadequate for the wants of the present population, say 500,000 inhabitants, which at 40 gallons per head would require 20,000,000 gallons per day, whereas the works at present in use are only capable of supplying 4,000,000 gallons. Moreover, the supply is not constant or of sufficient pressure; while the colour and taste of the water are anything but good, and possibly dangerous to health. This state of things cannot go on. The hot summer months will soon be upon us, and we have neither engine power nor reservoir surface sufficient. Even when the two new engines and pumps are finished, the 4 combined will only lift 8,000,000 gallons per day. All persons must be fully aware of the very great waste of filtered water that is now taking place, etc."

My principal object was to point out the urgent necessity of taking immediate steps to remedy this error. I proposed in January 1892 to give Buenos Ayres a complete separate supply of pure filtered and softened water; clear, bright and almost all organic matter removed. I proposed water meters, one to each house for $5 per annum, and the pure filtered water at 5 cents per 1000 gallons. The present costly system of passing water through sand gives us a very turbid, dirty looking liquid, and does not remove the impure organic matter.

EMPACHO IN CHILDREN.

Mr. Editor,

A very obstinate case of empacho, which had been treated without result by all the talent in the place, professional and unprofessional, asses' milk, etc., has lately been cured by the milk of a donkey from Paraguay.

Anyone interested in investigating this case can apply for details at San Martin 168.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The first doze of summer was in favour yesterday, and the heat was such that all those privileged beings who had the time, and many who hadn't, took a good, old-fashioned "siesta" after lunch. By the way, lunch is a dangerous imported horror in this climate in summer. A "mate" and a sleep are the only hygienic lunch from November to March

The National Senators met yesterday at 3.30 p.m. and held a secret confabulation until 4.30. They agreed to promote Colonel Jose Arias to the rank of General.

Mineral waters of all kinds are now in furious demand, not so much for drinking as for bathing and washing purposes, as the Bateman Legacy has gone to the three D's, and no citizen knows when the pipe water on his premises will stop running for hours together. Washing one's hands and face in soda water and Sunshine soap, and jumping into a bath of Apollinaris are pleasant but expensive sensations; and those who are poor in purse are in despair: their whiskey and water are now whiskey and whiskey, their milk and water, milk and milk, and their tea and coffee are made with beer "del pais." It's an awful state of things.

Talking of beer: we are in a position to defy the Bateman Legacy and all its works and pumps, thanks to the attention of the popular owner of the Rio Segundo Brewery Company, whose tipple is like the Scots Greys, "Second to none."

Dozens of fair subscribers have asked us the meaning of the title of the play the whole British community is going to see on Monday night next. "Ours," fair enquirers, refers to a British regiment ordered to the Crimea when we thrashed the Russians before any of you were born. The officers, as usual in such cases, left behind them sweethearts and wives, who charter a steamer and follow "Theirs" to the seat of war. We believe this is more or less the groundwork of the play, but won't swear to it on either the Old or the New—Handbook.

There was a grateful rumour in the air yesterday that the Finance Committee of the Senate is beginning to see through the blue ruin and fallacy of the Protection system and intends to recommend a sharp reduction of import duties on articles of prime necessity. Bravo! Three cheers for the Senate Committee.

We hope the usual STANDARD luck attended all our subscribers and constant readers in yesterday's Lottery. Here are the big prizes:—4082, $20,000; 4974, $2,000; 1850, $1,000; 15038, 15833, 10163, $500 each; 4003, 16392, 13801, 14148, 12944, $200 each; 11362, 16338, 14346, 15779, 10589, 15400, 9890, 6464, 9104, 13401, and 5785, $100 each.

The entertainment in the Zarzuela Theatre to-morrow afternoon will be one of the hits of the season and will put cash in the Literary purse. All the British matrons in town intend to take their olive-branches, and the theatre will be as full as it can hold. It is also an opportunity, that will not occur again, for children of a larger growth to see the first ventriloquist in the world without the bother of remaining out of bed till the top of the morning. The second part of the programme will also be an item, as we are pleased to learn that Miss Webster and Mr. R. H. Morgan will give the comedieta "A husband in clover."

At the Barracas Institute concert on Wednesday night the hall was comfortably crowded by a sympathetic audience who had an excellent programme rendered remarkably well by talented amateurs assisted by a few professional friends. While all went so well that it would be invidious to make any comparisons, we must specially mention the piano solos of Mesdames Cooke and Hiley as leaving nothing to be desired, while the song of Miss Homeyer with piano and violin accompanists was remarkably well rendered and received, as also was a violin solo by Mr. Homeyer. Altogether the concert was a decided success and must prove such a powerful aid to the fund in question as will enable the Committee shortly to obtain the much coveted 'box of strings' if not for cash at least on the instalment 3 years system. The piano used at the concert was kindly lent by Mr. Guillermo Neumann, Floride.

There is a capital Italian opera company now at the nice little Doria Theatre, and the families at the West end of the city should patronize it. The ever popular Fra Diavolo is in the bill for to-morrow night.

There were some visitors in our office yesterday who were much pleased with Mr. Lundstrom's superb album of the Compañia Gas Argentino, shewing the works of the Almagro factory and also those of the Corrales Usina. The pictures are as clear and as sharply defined as steel engravings, and will certainly evoke great admiration in England.

A hen-egg hail-storm at Chivilcoy on Tuesday night destroyed four leagues square of wheat, and we regret to see the name of our esteemed countryman Mr. O'Leary in the list of the damnified Congress should vote some shin-plasters for the extinction of hailstones.

All right. What boots it to a man if he have the wealth of Vanderbilt, but no boots to put on his poor feet? The Crispinites on strike have resolved to start a joint-stock factory of their own and make better and cheaper shoe-leather than their former "patrones." They have a capital of 40,000 Nats, and mean to make the nattiest boots in town.

Another weekly passenger for the Editorial Bus, and we'll ask the manager for a free pass for him. La Agricultura will look after bucolic interests, and all subscribers will be expected to remember their Virgil. We salute our new colleague with effusion.

Great news. The B. A. and M. V. Health Boards, after their recent fierce squabble, have fallen on each other's necks, wept, kissed, and become friends again. The former received a gushing love letter from the latter yesterday, and everything is again all square between them - till the next time.

On Tuesday at Montevideo the coast-guardsmen arrested four Englishmen who were trying to effect a landing on the mole. They acknowledged being deserters from the British bark Scotia in that port, and complained of bad treatment on board. They are detained under arrest, pending the proper enquiries.

Engineer Fremond requests us to jog the memory of all those who intend to figure in the musical line at the Chicago Exhibition, to hurry up and interview him at 909 Calle Esmeralda.

National Railway Inspectors have very large ideas of money. One of them would like to see the Rosario line fined $10,000, for charging excess of passengers' luggage when there is no excess.

Here's what a North Pole traveller says of the Esquimaux:—

"I have had exceptional facilities for studying one of the most unique peoples of the world, the Esquimaux of northern Greenland, known as the Arctic Highlanders. There are about 250 persons in the tribe. They are separated by miles of ice and great glaciers from all other human beings, and yet they are a tribe which, in the grasp of the two things of life to them—something to eat and wear—are not excelled by any. Their adaptation is simply wonderful. Their kyack is the most perfect outcome of aboriginal genius ever seen on the face of the globe."

A colleague advises the Lord Mayor to fly at the baker 'gremio' and hit them hard, between the eyes, as they are charging the same now for bread as when flour was twice its present price.

There was some mad dog fun in Calle Caridad yesterday or the day before, we forget which: nobody bitten: dog dead.

Another famous bandit has been shot in the Interior, in Santiago del Estero, of which province he was for a long time the terror. His "nom de guerre" was Oriental and the capataz of an estancia which he attacked put an ounce of lead into him and finished him.

The abuse of buying up the over-due salaries of Government employees for half-nothing, and then getting them paid in full by influence with the Government is carried to a shameful extent in Rosario. The Capital mentions a case where $340 salary was bought from a poor young clerk for $80; and the Government paid the full amount to the rascally usurer next day. Cases of this kind are the rule, not the exception.

A Quebec blacksmith named Allard has made a wonderful discovery, how to temper aluminium as hard as steel. A test was made at the demand of a New York firm. It took the Canadian inventor only thirty minutes to temper the piece of aluminium, which was originally as soft as lead. Albé Laffamme, the renowned scientist of Laval University, examined the tempered metal and gave Allard a certificate to the effect that the aluminium was tempered as hard as steel could be.

The English arbitrators have decided the case of the collision between the La France and Sud America at Las Palmas in 1886. The decision is in favour of the Italian Company, who get damages and costs.

The big prize in the Navidad Lottery at Montevideo will be $100,000 gold. Tickets will be booming round next week. What about the Boss Lottery of the world in Madrid, at Christmas, big prize £120,000, stg.? Are there any tickets on sale here this year? Next Thursday's Lottery here gives $100,000 paper as big prize. The Lottery business in this city is now bowling along as fiercely as in the old times, or more so.

A subscriber sends us the following pertinent interrogatories:—

Are shopkeepers ever going to reduce their present considerable prices?

When will promoters of charitable entertainments learn to fix admission fees within the reach of non-millionaires?

Whether the Brazilians ever apologised for firing on a British merchant vessel?

Whether those irons have yet been taken off that Englishman?

When is the newly patented Tramway Guard Quencher coming into use?

Dr. Blanco, the Finance Minister of Santa Fe, is going to throw up the post in disgust and betake himself to Europe and the Chicago Exhibition. The ruling powers in that unfortunate province do not want any financial or any other reform, so Dr. Blanco is not the man for Galway, or Galvez, who is boss of the province now as much as when he was its Governor.

Round the world for fifty cents! This is the cheapest thing we've heard of so far. An enterprising gentleman has opened a fine peep-show, Calle Maipu 184, alongside STANDARD Court. The saloon is luxuriously got up, and at night is lit up by electricity. There are no less than 4,000 views, from the marshes of Thermopylæ to a "peluqueria" in the days of the Shepherd Kings. All notable places and monuments may be seen in a few minutes. This is "fin de siécle" travelling. No sea-sickness, no railway-travelling, no hotel-bills, no waiters. You sit down and you see all that is worth seeing in the world.

Staterooms and berths will be allotted to passengers here, through to destination.

Connection from the R. Plate:
The last opportunity for passengers from the Plate to connect with the ss. SEGURANCA at Rio as above, will be by the P.S.N. Co.'s steamship, AGONCAGUA hence on the 16th November.

ON 'CHANGE.

Thursday, November 24th 1892.
Gold Premium.

First Ring.....	176 80%
Second Ring.....	176.30%

The turn in the gold market which began yesterday subsided to-day and the supposed requirements of the monthly liquidation did not amount to much. It is now argued that there is no heavy "shortage" in the market, which we very much doubt. It is a well known fact that many have sold heavily in "descubierto;" no doubt that the shrewd ones have bought back, but a lot of business remains to be liquidated between this and the end of the month; how far this may affect prices is a matter of conjecture, but on 'Change the majority believ the varied character of Rosario exports. Where are the hides, tallow, wool and sheepskins of former years? Even wheat and maize we miss from the manifests.

The Thames took £90,000 for Rio. Sovereigns we believe are scarce in Rio and are bought by the Brazilian Government to remit to Europe for the service on their debt. The fact that so large a sum in sovereigns could be got together at so short a notice reveals the fact that there is far more gold in this market than what is generally supposed, and those who are well acquainted with the Montevidean market state that the stock of gold down there is much larger than here, and altogether in excess of the business requirements of Montevideo. It seems almost incredible, yet it is authoritatively stated that there are millions of gold lying idle in Montevideo, and the bulk of this gold belongs to parties here who hold it down there for safe keeping. Gradually, however, as the market improves here, and confidence increases, that gold will come up to this market; of course the rate of exchange rules everything, but even if commercial exchage were up it is probable that this gold would still have been bought for Rio, as sovereigns are required in that market. Nobody here speculates on low exchange, since it is as plain as a pike-staff that the rate must be two per cent higher next month than at present. The wool sales now every morning are beginning to be heavy and tickle the exchange market, and a pretty large amount of exchange was done to-day at slightly improved rates for the Italian mail.

The first sale of new linseed was effected yesterday; 500 tons were sold in Rosario at $4. We believe an American house the buyer. Some sales of new wheat in Rosario have also been made, but at reserved rates. 20,000 bags of wheat on the Central Argentine Railway, deliverable in Rosario, at $7 are reported, and about 5,000 bags sold between the Once and Plaza Constitucion at from 6.70 to $7. 120 tons of bran, placed on board, sold at $3.20. Messrs Lahusen and Company have, so far, topped the wool market as buyers, both here and in Montevideo. In this market they have already purchased over 4,000,000 kilos and in Montevideo they are amongst the largest buyers.

It seems that there was a great deal of exaggeration in the news published in the papers about the Tucuman sugar crop. Ex-Governor Quinteros has very properly come forward to correct the alarming news, and says that the rains have not caused such great damage, and that next year's sugar crop will be better in quality.

Mr. Charles Maschwitz, the active President of the Department of Engineers of the Province of B Ayres, has passed a note to the Provincial Minister of Public Works of very great interest to the travelling public, since he explains to the Government the methods of the railway companies for arranging their tariffs with the price of gold. These tariffs are arranged every Thursday, and on every Saturday they advise Mr. Maschwitz of the changed tariff for the ensuing week. Last week's tariff was so—

Western Railway—

25% has been reduced on the tariff of cereals. This week is not published yet, but from the reading of Mr. Maschwitz's note, it is quite evident that the interests of the travelling public are well cared for by him.

The Contaduria General have applied to Government for the sum of $73,308 to pay the Central Northern for the junction service at Cordoba.

The N. R. Board have issued a brief report urging the Government not to grant the petition of the Pacific Railway Company asking for one intervention for that line and the Villa Maria—Rufino Railway. The Board maintain that there should be one intervention for each line.

The Direccion General de Renta have reported favorably on an application of the East Argentine Railway to be allowed to erect a crane on the embankment at Concepcion.

The funeral of the late Mr. George Bachmann took place to-day and was largely attended by the leading members of the German community and other representative foreign residents. The remains of the deceased gentleman were interred in the new Protestant Cemetery. The chief mourners were his three sons. Amongst those present were Messrs. Fra z Mallmann, William Peats, Hemmann, Von Eicken, Fischer, Niebuhr, Zwank, Luders, Schroeder and many others whose names escape our memory. The German Pastor, Rev. Butz, delivered an eloquent oration, in the course of which he praised the energy and activity and other brilliant qualities of the deceased.

Paper Money.

Projectors every now and then start up with plans for curing all the economical evils of society by means of an unlimited issue of inconvertible paper. There is, in truth, a great charm in the idea. To be able to defray the expenses of government without taxation, and, in fine, to make the fortune of the whole community, is a brilliant prospect, when once a man is capable of believing that printing a few characters on bits of paper will do it. The philosopher's stone could not be expected to do more.

The substitution of Paper for metallic currency is a national gain: any further increase of Paper beyond this is but a form of robbery.—John Stuart Mill on Inconvertible Paper Currency.

Paper Money properly means paper made legal tender, and not legally convertible into gold, or anything else, at the pleasure of the holders, or at any given period. No part whatever of the value of such paper money is derived from confidence. It circulates because it is made legal tender, and because the use of a circulating medium is indispensable; and its value, supposing the demand to be constant, is in all cases inversely as the quantity in circulation.—

REAL COMPANHIA DOS VINHOS DO PORTO.

Por rumores esparcidos en estos últimos tiempos, se trata de disputar á la antigua Compañia de vinos de Oporto, bajo la razon Comercial registrada Compañhia Geral da Agricultura das vinhas do Alto Douro el derecho de usar el titulo de REAL y en nuestra calidad de antiguos agentes de dicha Compañia nos vemos obligados á oponernos a tales aserciones, tan injustas cuan inmotivadas, y cuyo fin resalta a primera vista.

En el nombre de la Compañia, noticiamos, pues, a todo el mundo, y especialmente a nuestra clientela, que su establecimiento fue de Institucion Real, que data del año 1756, por iniciativa del celebre ministro Marqués de Pombal, y que solamente fue desde entonces conocida ya en el comercio como COMPANIA REAL, sinó que desde esa fecha tambien goza y es poseedora del derecho formal de usar para todos sus vinos la marca bien conocida de REAL COMPANHIA DOS VINHOS DO PORTO con las Armas de Portugal, marca que ya ella registrada en los Archivos públicos, que la Compañia ha usado siempre en sus etiquetas y que continuará usando en el futuro sin que nadie pueda oponerse a ello.

La Compañia es conocida en todo el mundo bajo el nombre que usa en sus etiquetas, y los vinos de la Compañia, oriundos de los mejores y mas acreditados viñedos de la region del Alto Douro, han adquirido, por su pureza y superioridad, la reputacion universal que gozan, y de que no puede jactarse otro establecimiento alguno del mismo ramo.

La Compañia garante siempre la mas completa pureza y genuinidad de sus vinos; el cuidado que dedica al tratamiento de los mismos, en sus vastas bodegas, es de todo punto insuperable, no empleando jamás sino aguardiente de vino, con exclusion de todo; y los importantes recursos de que dispone otro facultan a la Compañia para combatir ventajosamente toda y cualquiera competencia.

La Compañia fue tambien la primera que consigo introducir y dar fama a los Vinos de Oporto, habiendose empeñado, desde el principio de su fundacion, en servir siempre con toda probidad y a no entregar nunca sino vinos enteramente libres de defectos y de calidades perjudicialmente uniformes.

En todas las Exposiciones en que fueron exhibidos, los vinos de la Compañia fueron premiados, y aun en la última Exposicion Universal de Paris, celebrada en 1889, le fue adjudicada a la Compañia la medalla de oro

Esperamos que estas comunicaciones bastaran para esclarecer plenamente el verdadero estado del caso.
